2026 SEASON

In 2026, on the track, Noah will compete in his first World Cup in Malaysia and the World Championships in Shanghai (China) as well as in multiple international UCI CL1 and UCI CL2 competitions in London (UK), Ghent (BEL), Carson (USA), Plovdiv (BG), Sprint Cups (GER), Grenchen (CH).

VISION

My vision is twofold:
Reach the 2028 Olympics
while uplifting the cycling community, the international youth, and the cycling industry along the way.

MISSION

His journey is about more than just personal success – it’s about breaking barriers, creating access, and inspiring the next generation of riders.

COMMUNITY

Committed to making cycling more accessible and inclusive.
As a volunteer with the Los Angeles Bicycle Academy (LABA), he mentors young riders, teaches bike mechanics, and leads group rides, helping kids build confidence both on and off the bike. He truly believes that the bike is a powerful tool for individual and social transformation. Sponsoring Noah means being represented by a national champion at top-tier cycling events while contributing to a movement that promotes access, diversity, and opportunity in the sport.

WHAT SETS NOAH ASIDE

Dedicated to Growth: Noah has quickly progressed through the ranks, competing at an elite level in track and road cycling, with his sights set on the 2028 Olympics.
A Unique Perspective: With roots in Germany and Bulgaria and a home in Los Angeles, Noah bridges different cycling cultures and brings a broad, global perspective to the sport.
